Chinese Historical & Cultural Project Annual Membership Dinner

By Yvonne Ching, VP CHCP

The mood was festive, the fare was sumptuous, the ambience was light and festive. That was the setting for the Annual CHCP Membership Dinner held on January 26, 2015 at China Stix. We boasted almost 90 guests who enjoyed a feast fit for an emperor.

Ruthanne Lum McCunn, an author of Chinese–Scottish ancestry whose books have been translated into eleven languages and novels adapted for stage and film, was our guest speaker. She captivated us with her newest novel “Chinese Yankee,” a true story of Thomas Sylvanus, born Ah Yee Way. She came with an array of books that she has penned, including her first novel, "Thousand Pieces of Gold." She was very well received.

Debbie Gong–Guy generously donated an exquisite cloisonné vase and beautiful jade tree from her late mother Lillian’s estate for our raffle.
Annual Membership Dinner (con’t)

We welcomed Helina Chin, Debbie Gong-Guy, and Teresa Lau as new additions to our team of directors. And we thanked the last year’s team for reenlisting for another term of hard work.

We would like to boast of an increase of at least 14 new members largely due to the efforts to our president Brenda Wong, who is out there promoting CHCP.

We thank all of you who attended the Annual Membership Dinner and those who renewed their memberships. It is through our collective efforts that we are able to promote and sustain those values that we wish to preserve. We cannot do it without you.
On Saturday, September 6 at 6pm at Camera 3 in downtown San Jose, CHCP celebrated Center for Asian American Media’s (CAAM) 12th year in San Jose at CAAMFest San Jose, a 4-day film festival in San Jose from September 4-7th. CAAMFest San Jose presented films and events reflecting the impact and influence of Asian Americans in Silicon Valley and their continuous innovation in technology, arts and culture, media, and the community. A group of about fifteen CHCP board members and their friends attended the event. Additional friends and supporters of CHCP and CAAM were treated to AMERICAN DREAMS IN CHINA, one of China’s most successful box office hits of 2013.

CHCP was a Community Sponsor of CAAMFest San Jose’s centerpiece attraction, AMERICAN DREAMS IN CHINA. San Jose Arts Commissioner Ron Muriera introduced CHCP President Brenda Hee Wong who made introductory remarks about CHCP and encouraged members of the audience to visit, learn about the museum, and support CHCP.

AMERICAN DREAMS IN CHINA is a story about three underachieving college students who happen to meet, begin a tutoring business, expand their tutoring venture and become successful businessmen. Along the way, the three partners in the tutoring company face copyright infringement lawsuits with an American company and must negotiate with the attorneys of the overconfident large American company. The end result is that the three Chinese partners are able to outmaneuver the American corporate attorneys and negotiate a settlement favorable to the Chinese company. A modern version of David versus Goliath, AMERICAN DREAMS IN CHINA is directed by Peter Chan and is an aspirational and riveting story of the underdog’s victory over a powerhouse organization.

CAAMFest 2015 begins an 11-day run showcasing Asian and Asian American film, music, food and digital media from March 12 through March 22. Screenings and events take place in San Francisco, Oakland, and Berkeley. Please check caamedia.org for more information.
It was a perfect day for the many young costumed guests on Saturday, October 26, 2014 at the Annual Halloween Haunt, History San Jose. This was a fabulous family event for all ages who participated in a variety of Halloween arts/crafts activities offered at the affiliates' building throughout the park. The young guests made bat bracelets, picked out Halloween stickers and bat rings, and learned about the significance of the bat in Chinese culture at the Chinese American History Museum.

Although the museum was not open, over 80 ghosts, goblins, superheroes, Olaf, and many other creatures visited the CHCP station. Kudos to our CHCP student volunteers, Katherine and Kelly Kwong, for helping out the young guests.
CHCP Traveling Exhibit at the Saratoga Historical Museum

“Pioneering the Valley: The Chinese American Legacy in Santa Clara Valley”

By Peter Young

CHCP’s traveling exhibit was on display at the Saratoga Historical Museum in a mixer event on September 26 that the museum jointly sponsored with the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce and the Saratoga Rotary. It was held at the museum site at 20450 Saratoga Los Gatos Road. The traveling exhibit “Pioneering the Valley: The Chinese American Legacy in Santa Clara Valley” consists of 14 colorful panels containing historical and current information on immigration trends, the five San Jose Chinatowns, and new pioneers in politics, sports, the arts, business, and more.

The large crowd of approximately 100 people from the three sponsoring organizations came by to network and support the after work event and to visit the CHCP traveling exhibit. The event emcee was Los Gatos Saratoga High School District Board Member Cynthia Chang. Many local government and community leaders were present including Saratoga City Mayor Emily Lo and Saratoga City Council candidate Yan Zhao.

Many CHCP board members were present to share information on CHCP and the exhibit including Board member Peter Young, as well as past CHCP President and now CHCP Trustee Anita Kwock and CHCP Treasurer Al Low who were in Chinese attire. Our Lady of Fatima Villa senior care community located next door catered the event and attendees were treated to a delightful assortment of delicious hors d’oeuvres and desserts prepared by OLFV’s chef and tended by OLFV staff.

The traveling exhibit will be displayed at the following locations. For more information and details, please visit the CHCP website at chcp.org.

The Whole/Hole Story & History of Chinese Coins

On November 16, a cool crisp Sunday, six contestants were involved in a game show and awarded with cash and ribbons at History Park. The speaker, Mr. Ken, was a knowledgeable coin collector for over 60 years and showed his precious Chinese coin collection. He discussed the history and values of different coins and the audience brought coins to ask questions.

CHCP Welcomes the Chinese Winter Solstice Festival at History San Jose

By Liz Chew

Many smiling and eager children descended upon History San Jose on a bright, clear day to get into the holiday spirit at the annual Children’s Holiday Festival on Saturday, December 13th, 2014. Santa was on hand for photo opportunities. Children rode the trolley, operated the hand car, and participated in culturally diverse crafts celebrating the winter holiday season. Even the Oscar Meyer Weiner truck was there to help bring in the holiday spirit.

CHCP opened the Chinese American History Museum to welcome over 100 visitors. Families enjoyed making fan ornaments and learning about the Chinese Winter Solstice Festival with “tong yuen,” a traditional rice ball soup served at family gatherings.

Our high school student volunteers Kelly, Katherine, and Eric helped the young children with making their fans. The children had fun making the fan ornament to hang on their tree at home. It was a great day to get into the holiday spirit!

Young and young at heart are having fun making the fan ornaments.
On February 19, 2015, the Asian community will celebrate the Lunar New Year (4713 on Chinese calendars) – the Year of the Ram, also called Goat or Sheep. Those born in the following years are under the sign of the Ram: 1919, 1931, 1943, 1955, 1967, 1979, 1991, 2003, 2015, and 2027.

The Ram is the eighth animal of the Chinese Zodiac. Those born in the Year of the Ram are considered to be calm, gentle, creative, thoughtful, persevering, honest, and deeply religious. On the other hand, Rams tend to be overly sensitive, shy, moody at times, and need to feel loved and protected. Those born under the Ram sign enjoy taking care of other people and will do better than they realize, partly because they are so good at keeping the peace, and partly because they are good at accomplishing the tasks at hand.

The best jobs or careers for Ram people include pediatrician, actor, daycare teacher, interior designer, florist, musician, editor, illustrator, dancer, and landscape architect.

In affairs of the heart, Ram people are most compatible with those born under the signs of the Rabbit, Boar, and Horse. Ram people are least compatible with those from the Ox, Rooster, and Dog years.

For Ram people, your lucky colors are green, red, and purple. Your lucky numbers are 3, 9, and 4. And your lucky flowers are carnations, primrose, and the alice flower.

Famous people born under the year of the Ram include Michelangelo, Mark Twain, Jane Austen, George Burns, Robert DeNiro, John Denver, Thomas Edison, Mel Gibson, George Harrison, Kate Hudson, Mick Jagger, Nicole Kidman, Sir Laurence Olivier, Julia Roberts, Pierre Trudeau, John Wayne, Bruce Willis, Barbara Walters, and Orville Wright.
